2009 South Alabama Film Festival

The Festival

November 6-8, film fans from across the region will unite in Mobile for the Azalea City's first official film festival, dubbed the South Alabama Film Festival (SoAL Film Fest). Born from the South Alabama Film Group, the festival was created to showcase the growing regional independent film community - and to help local filmmakers get their films shown - in support of all things cinema.

Throughout the weekend, feature- and short-length films will be offered at multiple venues, including the Crescent Theater, 5 Rivers Delta Resource Center and Bernheim Hall at the Ben May Main Library. A free outdoor film will be screened in Cathedral Square the evening of Friday, Nov. 6 to kick off the festival.

The three-day festival will be the culmination of a year's worth of cinematic celebrations, some of which are still upcoming, such as the high school student film contest September 3rd and a weekend film scramble Oct. 23-25.

The festival is accepting films until Sept. 1, with the official selections to be announced on Sept. 15. For specific daily and weekend schedules and ticket information, visit www.southalabamafilmfestival.org after that date.
